

Article XIV:

Training

The technique training of the art of Konigun Ninjutsu is governed by the techniques listed within the Konigun Ninjutsu training manuals that are published by Konigun Ninjutsu and licensed by the current Shidoshi and Elders of Konigun Ninjutsu. The training manuals consist of a full volume set including the white sash through the black sash ranks, weapon's manuals, body management manuals, and woodland skills manuals, as well as this constitution.

Article XV:

Teaching

Section 1: Grant of License -

Black Sash in good standing with this Konigun Constitution are granted the exclusive title rights to the traditional techniques of Konigun Ninjutsu. Along with the exclusive title rights to Konigun Ninjutsu are the copyrights, contracts, invoices, files, receipts, manuals, and publications concerning Konigun Ninjutsu, and provided equipment (when available), including but not limited to the signs, back stock, and certificates. In accordance this Konigun Constitution grants the Instructor a non-exclusive license to sell the Traditional Technique within their certification. Konigun Ninjutsu retains title of the Traditional Technique.

Section 2: Business License -

All Black Sash in good standing with this Konigun Constitution are licensed to teach within their certification, but the signer cannot apply or obtain a business license under the name of Konigun Ninjutsu or with the name Konigun in the business licensed name. The signer understands that the aforesaid names and titles are trademarked. By the signing of this constitution the signer is licensed to teach the trademarked techniques.

Article XVI:

Obtaining the Rank of Shidoshi

There are two ways to become the Shidoshi of Konigun Ninjutsu.

1. Be appointed by the current Shidoshi when he retires or becomes deceased.
2. Trial by Combat - Konigun has been and will remain a trial by combat system. Trial by combat refers to the standing invitation from the current Shidoshi to anyone desiring to obtain the position of Shidoshi by defeating the current Shidoshi in open combat. This system of checks and balances has been in existence throughout all of Konigun's history. If you feel you can do a better job then "step up to the plate."
